Solutions Completes Connection to ILR E-Submission API

In 2023, Iowa Land Records completed the process of developing a new E-Submission API and signed agreements with county service providers to finalize the process by June of this year. Solutions (Harris Local Government) has officially become the first local service provider to integrate all of their client counties with the updated E-Submission API successfully. This milestone marks a significant leap forward, ushering Iowa Land Records and Solutions client counties onto a modern and more secure platform for information exchange.

The new API introduces enhanced control and monitoring tools that empower service providers and recorders to stay informed about document statuses and system messages. Additionally, ILR is rolling out new search tools in the recorders' E-submission interface, aimed at improving workflow efficiency and customer service.

Under the terms of the contract update ratified in Spring 2023, most service providers are mandated to implement the new E-submission API by June 30, 2024. Furthermore, support for the current API will also end on that date. We are cognizant of the diligent efforts of other local service providers who are actively engaged in development work to meet this deadline. Recordors served by other service providers may contact their provider to extend positive encouragement and support.

What's next? ILR has also developed a new "County Upload API" that will facilitate county functions to transfer records to Iowa Land Records to be redacted and then posted online. This deadline will likely be extended to early 2025. Stay tuned for more details!

Thank you for your continued support as we navigate these transformative initiatives.
